THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN.

JO B. TOBBS, Publisher.
OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE PARTY IN THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.
VOL. IV. HARTFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1892. NO. 50.

WASHINGTON.

Brief Summary of the People About the Nation's Capital.

July 11, '92.—It is evident that the Democratic majority of the House intend to pass the free coinage bill. They say it is necessary for them to do so in order to retain their hold upon a number of Congressional districts in the West and South, and they rely upon Cleveland's well-known and anti-silver sentiments to save them in the East. It will not be done, however, without a bitter parliamentary fight, as Speaker Crisp has given the silver men assurances of his intention to aid them, there is little or doubt of the final result. It is regarded as certain that the President, who has taken advantage of the wrangle over the bill in the House to carry Mrs. Harrison to the Adirondacks, will veto it.

While the resignation of Chairman Campbell, of the National Committee, is generally regretted by Republicans, there is no evidence here of the commotion by sensational Democratic newspapers to exist among Republicans by reason of that resignation. The new Chairman will be selected by the new Executive Committee, and it goes without saying that the selection will be a good one. The Democrats will discover before long that this campaign is to be fought on a great principle and not by or for any one man.

Senator Aldrich this week introduced a concurrent resolution for the final adjournment of Congress on July 20, but he has little hope that it will get away as soon as that, unless a great change takes place very soon.

A good deal of nonsense is being talked about the probability of the election being thrown into the House because of the defection of the Silver States from the Republican ticket. Few people can be found here who honestly believe that the voters of any State heretofore Republican will prefer Weaver or Cleveland to Harrison; but, allowing for the sake of argument that Mr. Harrison should lose all of the new State and the five Michigan votes, and hold the other States he carried in 1888, he would get 225 electoral votes, which would be two more than would be necessary to elect him. Much of this talk about throwing the election into the House comes from the Democrats who are inclined to favor the free coinage of silver, when voting by States, would be controlled by the Silver men, electing a free coinage, if there is a failure to elect in electoral college.

Had the Omaha Convention put up a man capable of inspiring National confidence, this talk might have influenced a considerable number of Republican voters, but the nomination of Weaver has made it dealer than a last year's bird's nest. It is doubtful whether a single Republican could be found, no matter what his opinion about silver may be, who would be willing to throw the election into the House, even if that body was pledged to elect a free coinage man; as a factor in the Presidential election is dead—Weaver killed it; the fight is to be a straight one between Harrison and Cleveland, Protection and Free Trade, and every man who casts a vote for the People's Party ticket simply throws it away.

A Fish Caught Him by The Toe

A most singular accident befel A. M. Moore on the fourth at Eagle Lake, I. T. Moore with a party of several others, went into camp at the lake on the evening of the 3d. On the morning of the 4th Moore with his fishing pole waded out to a log on the lake, where he sat down. He was barefooted. While moving his left foot to and fro in the water a large fish, supposed to be a black bass, made a sudden lunge and grabbed the toe in its mouth, sinking his teeth into the flesh to the bone. Moore rolled from the log into the water, which was waist deep. He waded to the shore, the bass still clinging to histoe. In the shallow water Moore gathered the fish and pried open its mouth, the fish escaping into the water. The toe was so badly lacerated that Moore is unable to walk to-day, and the member will probably have to be amputated.

OWENSBORO.

June 28.—I think the Democratic Convention, at Chicago, recently wrote its Will, or rather wrote its two Wills. The most important one, as considered by 342, who were for Protection, was opposed by 564 in favor of "Free Trade" Will and now the Democrats are beginning to boast, boasting that Cleveland has been nominated the third time and in a pretended, boastful manner say that "such a thing has never been done before by any party in the history of this country." No that's a truth and that's just the reason I think Cleveland will be laid in the shade next November.

The Democrats talked very fearfully a few years past that the Republican party would shortly fall into the idea of, and assume the form of a Monarchy. Now where are the Democrats drifting? Are they not winding towards Monarchy? This is the third time the Democrats have nominated the same man, and if in the course of human events Cleveland should be elected, which is not at all probable, will they not want to nominate him the fourth, fifth and sixth times? Who knows? It took them just 35 minutes to read their platform and the Louisville Times says it's a "straddle." One faction wanted, and now wants "Free Trade" and the other faction wants Protection. One faction wants Free Coinage of Silver and the other wants to leave the Monetary system as it now is. So what shall they do? What can they do but suffer defeat at the polls next November?

Mr. A. E. Stevenson, nominee for the Vice-Presidency said, regarding their platform, that it was even longer than necessary to enumerate the abuses of Republican Legislation. Now, that's all there is to it. The only thing any of them propose doing, during the canvass, is to abuse somebody—not to do any good to the country or her people. In a word they want to get in.

KINDERHOOK.

July 6.—Once more we are permitted to write a few lines to your paper. But are quite surprised to note the change there has been within the last few months, and to know that Mr. Rogers is editor of this wonderful paper, is a great delight to his many friends who wish him well. The noble editor, with his energetic type-setters, will no doubt publish the best paper in Western Kentucky.

T. L. Baird, wife and two children visited friends and relatives at Caneyville Saturday and Sunday. Miss Rhoda Hipsley, McLean county, is visiting her cousin, Miss Savilla Ward, at this writing.

Alex Barnett, who has been sick for the past week, is we are glad to state, able to be out again. After perusing the columns of last week's Herald we see that we were not mistaken in thinking that Dr. Pirle was on his road to Owensboro as he passed through Kinderhook not long since.

We are informed that U. C. Barnett went to McHenry Tuesday on business, and also learn that he has been employed to teach the fall school at that place.

The glorious fourth is past and there were several of our good people attended the Reunion at Cromwell; among the names of those well remembered were as follows: E. E. Tinsley, R. A. Anderson, C. H. Ellis, J. A. Anderson and wife, B. N. Combs and Misses Ollie and Sadie Anderson. All report a pleasant time.

Before closing we wish to thank Mr. Rogers for his nice treat Monday. Jo is a whole-souled fellow and makes friends wherever he goes. Looking forward to the next fourth of July and the Reunion, which will be held at Hartford, I am, DAVIS DEANE.

SULPHUR SPRINGS.

The picnic here last Saturday was a howling success. Muir & Haynes, the photographers, are here at present taking some good pictures.

Miss Nellie Thomas, of Bowling Green, is the guest of her brother, Jas. Fitzhugh.

Mrs. Lucy Tompkins, of Owensboro, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. M. Morton.

Misses Minnie Reufrow and Kate Grigsby are visiting at Spring Lick. Mrs. T. H. Aull, Auburn, Ky., will arrive here to-day, and will be the guest of A. S. Aull's family.

Several of our people attended the Reunion at Cromwell, Monday and all report a pleasant time. Cromwell knows how to entertain her guests.

Three cheers for Harrison, Reid, Woodward and Stevens; no more at present.

TEACHERS.

A Brief Outline of the State Teachers Association Held at Paducah.

AT LOUISVILLE NEXT YEAR.

As you are aware we left home early Monday morning for Paducah and arrived there at 5:30 o'clock in company with a large number of teachers, among who, was Prof. McHenry Rhoads, of Frankfort. We were met at the depot by members of the reception committee who conducted us to Prof. McHenry's office where we were enrolled and assigned homes for the week.

Next morning we went back to the public school building in company with a lady of the committee who conducted us through the rooms where the children's work was on exhibition.

To give you an adequate idea of this display would require more tact and a great deal more time than we can now command. Suffice it to say that no one who examined this display can lack for plans for the improvement of their pupils or for the methods to keep the smaller employed while they are busy with other pupils.

Many school supplies were also on exhibition. Among those we noticed particularly, because so badly needed in our school rooms, a globe and a case of maps. The globe was made to represent the rotary motion of the earth in its revolutions. It also had a daylight circle attached and by this means the reason for the difference in the length of days could be readily seen. A map of every country with a map of the world were arranged in a case on spring rollers. These maps could be let up and down at pleasure and when all were up the case could be closed thereby protecting the maps from dust or other things likely to injure them. As we examined these things we could not help wondering how many children had been robbed of vast opportunities by having school life rendered dull and uninteresting by not having the necessary things to render it otherwise.

A school with a conscientious teacher supplied with such maps, globes and etc., as are to be had at nominal cost, will not be wanting in incentives to bring out the best efforts of the pupil. If the Schools of Ohio county had such advantages we would be surprised at the rapid strides in education it would take. And what is to hinder? We have a superintendent endowed with the power to bring about such a change, but he is willing to incur the censure he would be likely to receive from a great many old fogies for doing his best for county and for his State? We believe he is brave enough to make such a self sacrifice.

At ten o'clock we repaired to the Opera House where the initial meeting of the Association was to be held. On the stage sat the officers of the Association, the board of Education of Paducah, and the orators of the occasion. The meeting was called to order by President, C. H. Dietrich, Hopkinsville, who introduced the Rev. W. E. Cave who invoked the divine blessing upon the Association.

After this Hon. E. W. Bagby, was introduced as the orator of the occasion to deliver the address of welcome. This address was a most eloquent and scholarly tribute to the cause of education in general and the teachers of Kentucky in particular. This address would be published in the Courier and many other papers of the State. Hon. Ed Porter Thompson responded briefly and fittingly, after which a vote of thanks was extended by the Association to Mr. Bagby for his eloquent address.

After some routine work Mr. C. H. Carothers, Editor Educational Courier, Louisville, read an admirable paper on University Extension. It was a well written paper and Mr. Carothers' tone and delivery made it doubly attractive.

During the afternoon the subject—Psychology as adapted to the needs of our Teachers was discussed. Prof. E. C. Fox in his speech on this subject said some things that were well calculated to displease a great many of our teachers. Mr. Fox seems to think the common school teachers are not sufficiently advanced in their studies to study Psychology. Think we are totally dependent upon the city teachers for advice and decision on all points of controversy. We were strongly impelled to respond to this speech by saying something in defense of our teachers, but timidity prevented us at the time. However we had the opportunity, aided by the convincing arguments of the whole school to understand we considered his speech inapplicable to our teachers and our reasons for so thinking.

At the evening session Mr. J. B. Merwin, of St. Louis, occupied the time. During his speech he said many good things and told many funny things but it was entirely too long to be rightly appreciated. Tuesday's session began at 9 o'clock in order to complete the entire program, the whole to conclude with a banquet in the evening at the Palmer Hotel.

The speeches and papers of to-day have been very good, but nothing seems to call for special notice, except the paper read by Prof. McHenry Rhoads at the Superintendent's session which convened at 2 o'clock p. m. at the High School building. This was a most excellent paper and set forth the needs of a proper course of study for our common schools and offered the best plans for meeting this long felt want. After its reading, the remainder of the time was taken up in its discussion. The sentiment of this paper embodied in a resolution was afterwards unanimously adopted by the Association.

A resolution distinguishing between school districts, in allowing one a longer school term than another because such district contained more pupils, was repeatedly voted down as it should be. The idea of our school system is not to favor one section more than another, and any law that gives one child a longer school term than another, violates this principle and should be repealed at once.

After adjournment at 5 o'clock p. m., the electric street cars were collected at the Opera House to take the Association on a free 3 mile ride out to the Park then back and out another street to Oak Grove Cemetery. Both of these places were very beautiful and to say we enjoyed the trip would convey but little of the pleasure derived from the occasion.

At the evening session Prof. Stooks, of Madisonville, gave a chalk talk which was very instructive. His speech was illustrated by off hand sketches that were very beautiful and served to make an otherwise dry talk very interesting. After this the Association repaired to the banquet. The toasts made on this occasion were very good but the one we liked best was responded to by Mr. R. H. Carothers, of Louisville, "School Ma'am." It was amusing to hear his reference to the change from the he to the she that has taken place in the gender of our teachers. He was at loss to know how he's were to regain their old position but advised the old bachelors to ask some school ma'am that night "to go with them the long way."

The Association adjourned to meet next year at Louisville. From the success of this meeting we hope for much from the next meeting of the Educational Association of Kentucky.

While Ohio county was better represented, at this meeting than her sister counties, it was not represented as it should be, or as it ought to be next year. It seems wise and right for our Institute this summer to select at least two of our most thorough going teachers, who, with our Superintendent, shall attend the meeting of this Association, and whose duty it shall be to try to get as many of the teachers of Ohio county to attend as possible. It would be well if the Institute of each county would do likewise.

Let us think about it until the time and select two or more of Ohio county's most experienced teacher to represent us at Louisville next summer.

Most of the teachers left Paducah Thursday morning but Mrs. Wedding, Miss Townsend and your writer remained until Friday spending Thursday night, seeing about Paducah. We left Paducah feeling very kindly toward the people of that place and so glad we were fortunate enough to attend the most successful meeting in the history of Kentucky's Teachers Association.

GRAZIA.

Woman, Whisky and Horses.

Sam Burdett comes before the public with a newspaper article on Kentucky's "beautiful women, fine horses and seductive whisky." We again protest against Kentucky women being classed with horses and whisky. Kentucky women are the most beautiful the earth affords, Kentucky whisky is the best that is made, and Kentucky horses the most perfect that grow, but if Kentucky's women are no better than her whisky and horses, we had better quit bragging on them. Let us quit this ungentlemanly, wanton and contemptible practice of comparing our noble women only with our horses and whisky. They either deserve more respectful treatment or nothing at all. The paper that persist in thus slurring the women of the State should be banished from the household of every self-respecting lady in Kentucky.

A Danville Verdict.
Mr. Jesse Dunn writes as follows: "I have used Quinn's Ointment for the last twelve months on thoroughpin, Windpuffs, Curbs, and Splints, it has never failed." Horsemen should not be without it. It would seem as if Quinn's Ointment was an investment.

LEITCHFIELD.

July 6th.—The fourth was very pleasantly spent here by attending a festival given for the benefit of the M. E. Church, which was a grand success, so far as numbers, but I don't think it decreased the Church debt very materially, but every body had a good time and we have always understood that, was what the fourth was made for.

There was no firing of big guns when the news of the nominations at Omaha was received, but I think the Republicans were well pleased to know that General Gresham could not be hoodwinked into the nomination and serve as a tool to divide the vote of Indiana with Harrison. In Indiana the Third Party is only trying to weaken General Harrison, as was made plain by the way they persisted in the effort to get Gen. Gresham to consent to their demands, but the finest part of the proceedings was in framing the Platform in two, and adopting the tail end and the recommending the first part to the people, at the same time they claimed to be the people. Now could they not adopt it all. They don't expect, or will they try to carry any of the Southern states? No not one.
